Legendary Exploration

Be sure to incorporate some touring in your schedule. Some of America's best known historical figures have taken their own legendary travels in our neighborhood. Sacagawea (or Sakakawea as we call her in North Dakota), Sitting Bull, and Lewis & Clark all traveled these waters and prairies. And, of course, Theodore Roosevelt, who once said, "I would not have become President had it not been for my time in North Dakota" lived in these badlands.

Some of the "can't miss" attractions in and around the area:

1. Theodore Roosevelt National Park North Unit
2. Little Missouri National Grasslands
3. Watford City's Long X Visitor Center and Pioneer Museum
4. Fort Union National Historic Site
5. Fort Buford State Historic Site
6. Missouri-Yellowstone Confluence Center
