

DRUTHERS

This summer I had a great experience interning at the new men's store in Fargo called Druthers. Druthers specializes in men's casual wear, allowing men to not only feel comfortable, but look good doing it. Along with working as a Lead Sales Associate, I worked hand and hand with the owner Holly Kraft in planning the future buys of the store. I also helped with the marketing strategy of the store, creating social media posts and modeling the clothes of Druthers.
