Description of Requested Scope Change:

The project started with the CSCI 413 students. I worked with a group of students recommended to me by the instructor of the course, Alex Radermacher. By the end of the semester, the students still were not able to produce a functional application for me to be able to implement the project for my class. Alex Radermacher volunteered to finish the project starting from the beginning. He has been working on this application since the end of last semester in May. He made a tremendous progress. The project ended up being so much more complicated than originally thought. I would like to change the scope of this project so that I can compensate Alex for the tools he needed to be able to complete the project such as an additional storage space this project will use. As of today (August 7), I have 96 students signed up for the class. Daily meteorological observations will take a sizable space and a dedicated server will need to operate throughout the semester. When I put together this proposal, I did not foresee the technical aspect of the project. Since I have not spent the money for the student salaries, and since the students were not able to complete the project, I would like to request permission to redirect the expense to hardware and software needs of the project.

Thank you,
