

Key Messages

	Key message 1 →→→	Key message 2 →→→	Key message 3
	Great teachers commit to professional change.	Good teaching practices support student success.	The Office of Teaching and Learning is a supportive place to find assistance to better your teaching.
Supporting message 1 ↓↓↓	Assessing the effectiveness of your teaching offers insight into your teaching.	Learners are diverse and ever-changing; strengthening your teaching strengthens learning.	The Office of Teaching and Learning makes connections with programs, people, and resources to offer innovative and timely solutions in teaching and learning.
Supporting message 2 ↓↓↓	Transform your teaching through reflective learning.	Engaging students in the learning process produces better results.	We learn together.
Supporting message 3	The Office of Teaching and Learning provides an introduction to, and training in, teaching models that enhance student learning.	Recognition of good teaching practices is one way we can support teachers.	Together we reinvigorate the teaching mission of the university.